

Outlining

Topic: Fish Amok

I. Topic sentence

Fish Amok, which is known as a Khmer traditional food, has its own uniqueness relating to its origins, looks, and flavor.

II. Supporting sentences

1. First main idea: Origins of Fish Amok

- One of Royal Khmer dish during 9th to 15th century
- Mostly eating in special occasions (Cambodia's Water Festival)

2. Second main idea: A look of Fish Amok

- Look like a curry stew
- Put in banana leaf or coconut
- Similar to other Southeast Asian country dishes

3. Last main idea: The taste and how Fish Amok should be eaten

- Less spicy so all people can eat this
- Can be eaten with or without rice

III. Conclusion

All these things make Fish Amok stand out from other dishes, and everyone should try it if they have a chance.